

COMPLICATED FAR EAST CONFLICT IS MARKED BY CLASHES

American Cruiser "Augusta" Is Endangered; Appeasement is Sought

TOKYO GIVES VIEWS

Says World-Wide Criticism Will Not Deter Japan

New Japanese air raids on Canton and a sharp clash at Shanghai, which endangered the American cruiser Augusta, complicated the Far Eastern conflict today as Britain sought appeasement of Europe through settlement of the Spanish Civil War.

- Developments:
1. Japanese bomb military establishment and railroad at Canton.
 2. Chinese attempt to blow up Japanese flagship in Whangpoo River at Shanghai failed.
 3. Tokyo spokesman says world-wide criticism will not deter Japan.
 4. British cabinet meets to approve plan to force withdrawal of Italian volunteers from Spain or open French frontier to aid Loyalists.
 5. British, French and Italian experts agree on new Mediterranean anti-air patrol scheme.
 6. Hitler stages another army parade for 11 Duce before bidding him farewell.

TOKYO, Sept. 29.—(INS)—Foreign criticism of her conduct of the Chinese war—even condemnation voted by 52 nations represented in the League of Nations Assembly—cannot deter Japan from her "true responsibilities," a foreign office spokesman announced today.

In a specially prepared answer, the spokesman gave the Japanese government's unyielding reaction to the mounting wave of anti-Japanese sentiment among foreign nations resulting from Japanese bombings of open Chinese cities.

The spokesman lashed back at the resolution adopted by the League Assembly, condemning and expressing the "world's horror" at bombardment of Chinese non-combatants by Japanese planes.

"For the sake of the League's prestige," he said.

100 Firemen Narrowly Escape

Chicago, Sept. 29.—One hundred firemen narrowly escaped death or serious injuries today in an explosion and fire that wiped out the Swift Company plant in the stockyard.

Damage was estimated at from $100,000 to $100,000,000—the latter figure depended on whether the huge stores of meat in the block square building were destroyed.

Hitler Stages Another Parade

Berlin, Sept. 29.—As a great climax before bidding his distinguished visitor farewell, Chancellor Adolf Hitler staged another army parade for Premier Mussolini today.

He renewed military demonstration, staged to symbolize for the world the repudiated and refortified solidarity of the "Rome-Berlin axis" resulting from the five-day visit to Germany.

At the same time, Hitler refused to take any chances of an event marring Mussolini's visit to Germany as his visit closed.

Complete Channel Survey

Philadelphia, Sept. 29.—To determine the advisability of deepening the channel of the Delaware River, eastern Pennsylvania's outlet to the sea, to a depth of 40 feet, United States Army engineers today completed a survey of the river from Philadelphia to the sea. Charing experts contend the depth of 35 feet is unsafe for steamers. Army engineers came here from Washington to make the survey in response to Governor Earle's effort to obtain better port facilities for Philadelphia and to the Delaware River ports.

The river survey was made under the guidance of Lieutenant Colonel John Lee, district engineer for the Philadelphia area. Engineers declined to make any statement after the survey, but said their report will be made public later.

KEYSTONE AUTO CLUB TO MEET MONDAY EVENING

Program of Entertainment is Planned for Affair to Be Held at Doylestown

EXPECT LARGE CROWD

Announcement is made by the Keystone Automobile Club of a meeting of Bucks County motorists to be followed by a program of entertainment, in the Doylestown High School, Doylestown, Monday evening.

The meeting will be in the nature of a motorist get-together, with Club speakers outlining plans for expansion of highway and safety activities as increased membership makes possible an enlarged civic program.

J. Borton Weeks, President of the Club, is personally directing arrangements for this and similar meetings in Eastern Pennsylvania and New Jersey. "It is my firm conviction," he said, "that motorists' interests can best be served through compact organization. Individually, the motorist has little voice in the determination of matters vitally affecting him. Through organization, however, he can command attention. One of the objects of these meetings is to invite the close co-operation of motorists in this vicinity in attacking the growing problems of motoring, foremost of which is highway safety."

On the day and evening of the Doylestown meeting, the Club's new Safety Test Trailer, the "traveling laboratory on wheels" which has won the acclaim of safety authorities of three States, will be parked in the vicinity of the meeting place, to give members and their friends opportunity to try the most scientific and interesting driver's test that has ever been devised.

A contingent of the Club's Motor Patrol, the "good Samaritans of the highway," with an enviable record in assisting motorists in difficulty, will be on hand to render any emergency services required.

An entertainment program of high merit is promised by Edward B. Watson, manager of the Bucks County Division of the Club. A most enjoyable evening may be anticipated by members and their friends, he said, emphasizing that only the best available talent will be employed in the program.

SPECIAL LANE FOR TRUCKS IS NEW SAFETY MEASURE

Experiment Now Being Tried On Number of Highways Throughout the State

SAFETY ON THE HILLS

By Warren Van Dyke
HARRISBURG, Sept. 29.—In a number of sections of the State, passenger cars now can pass trucks slowly winding their way up long grades without any danger from oncoming traffic.

This is the result of a third lane built at the right of highways going up steep hills solely for truck traffic in that direction.

Coming as the first move to segregate truck and pleasure car traffic, this experiment is doing much to relieve congestion caused by the inability of light, speedy vehicles to pass heavy trucks because of lack of proper sight distance ahead.

Those of you who are drivers no doubt have often become impatient with slow moving trucks on steep grades and have cut around them in heavy traffic, taking many chances.

Drivers passing trucks need have no thoughts of oncoming cars since those are restricted to their single lane. Arrows are painted several yards apart all the way down the hill to show that passing is not permitted in that direction. In the same way, markers indicate to traffic climbing the grade that a two-lane highway is available for them only.

However, winter's snows may create a problem in this experiment. Since the markers will be covered for a short time before the snow is removed, the department is considering the feasibility of posting signs at the bottom and top of hills where an additional lane has been built to explain to motorists the manner of travel.

The additional lane has been added to a number of highways, including several sections of U. S. route 111 between Harrisburg and York, on U. S. route 22 in Indiana, Cambria and Blair counties, on the Blue Mountain Highway between Tamaqua and Allentown, and on Red Hill above Dauphin, Dauphin County.

The next step in segregating passenger and truck traffic will be taken in the projected super-highway between Harrisburg and Pittsburgh—half-way across the State through the Allegheny Mountains.

A four-lane, divided highway is to be built with a maximum grade of three per cent. With two lanes of travel available in either direction and the absence of steep grades, both passenger and truck traffic will be able to move along at a fast rate of speed.

An important point that has come to my attention is that the heaviest trucks will not have to shift gears even once along the entire distance of the new highway. That is because the present towering grades on the parallel William Penn and Lincoln Highways will be eliminated by utilization of eight tunnels of the abandoned South Penn Railroad which go right through the mountains. Truck owners will appreciate that information because of the time they will save in moving their cargoes between Harrisburg and Pittsburgh.

THE GREAT GAME OF POLITICS

By FRANK R. KENT

(Copyright, 1937, by The Baltimore Sun)

Rising Above Their Convictions

THE return of Mr. Hugo Black to America does not lessen the strain imposed upon the professional liberals who at the time of his appointment hailed him as a "great liberal leader."

contended that he would elevate the Supreme Court and, from the Roosevelt standpoint, regarded his selection as ideal.

THE REASON THESE self-styled "leaders of liberalism" now suffer so acutely is that, regardless of the attitude assumed by Mr. Black, they are confronted with an exceedingly painful alternative. Either they must turn upon their hero, asserting his unfitness to sit upon the bench and condemning the President as negligent for not having ascertained the facts; or they must strangle their "liberal principles," another hatred of bigotry and, practically condoning Klan membership, dismiss as trivial the Klan oath, Klan record and Klan principles, the mere mention of which a few years ago filled their souls with loathing.

IT IS AN illuminating commentary upon the sincerity of these "saviors of the people," both political and journalistic—a true measure of their liberalism—that, confronted with a choice, they should choose, almost unanimously, the craven rather than the courageous course. Instead of sticking to their principles, they deliberately stultify themselves. In the words of an old-time politician caught in a jam, they have risen "above their convictions." With one of their own ilk caught in the Klan company, they have been finding all sorts of spurious excuses and explanations, ranging from the wholly false assertion that "everybody in Alabama politics had to join the Klan," to the fervent statement that while Mr. Black, for political reasons, joined this evil and unsavory organization, he later resigned, is not now in sympathy with its principles, policies and practices and never was.

THE LATTER has become the favorite argument with which Mr. Black's partisans are meeting the

To Tell of World Affairs

Dr. George Dewey Blomgren, World Traveler and Evangelist, who will speak at Oakhurst Chapel, South Langhorne, Friday evening.

BLOMGREN WILL TELL OF INTERNATIONAL AFFAIRS

World Traveler and Evangelist Will Speak at Oakhurst Chapel

FRIDAY AT 7.45 P. M.

SOUTH LANGHORNE, Sept. 29.—George Dewey Blomgren, nationally-known evangelist, world traveler and authority on international conditions, will speak at Oakhurst Chapel, Friday evening, at 7.45 o'clock.

In an interview, Dr. Blomgren disclosed some very interesting facts pertaining to his recent observations abroad.

Blomgren's conclusions concerning conditions in this topsy-turvy world are the result of close observations on the scene of action—in Europe itself. Many experiences have come to him from his travels in Europe and the Orient. Twice he had been sent out of Italy for not agreeing with the tenets of Fascism. He narrowly escaped being sent to prison by Fascist authorities, and he has seen the workings of politically-mad leaders.

"Present danger points are the borders of Germany and Russia, and between Russia and Japan, in my opinion," he said.

Being an evangelist as well as a news correspondent, Blomgren also believes he has the key to the solution of threatening war. There is a saying, "In war, God is forgotten," but Blomgren feels that the reverse is true. "It is my humble opinion that war comes as a result of having already forgotten God," he said. "And war is coming within one year."

Mr. Blomgren just returned from the war zones of China. He believes that will be a prolonged war. He will have much to say about this in his sermon lecture, "War Clouds of The Orient." All are invited to hear this address.

CROYDON CUBS ARE RECIPIENTS OF AN AMERICAN FLAG

Bucks County Chapter, D. A. R., Presents It As A Gift

MRS. CHAMBERS SPEAKS

"Building of The Flag" is Presented by Several of The Cubs

CROYDON, Sept. 29.—Croydon Cub Pack No. 1 received a handsome American flag, last night, as a gift from Bucks County Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution. The presentation took place in the auditorium of the fire station and was well attended. Preceding the presentation there was a pleasing musical program rendered and an interesting exercise "Building of The Flag" by the cubs.

The flag was presented by Mrs. J. H. Barnsley, Newtown, vice regent of the D. A. R., Bucks County. Mrs. Barnsley in well chosen words told of the pleasure in her duty of the evening. She spoke of the Daughters of the American Revolution and the interest they had in the scout movement and the things for which the movement stands.

Previous to the presentation Mrs. John B. Chambers, Newtown, gave an address on the flag in which she traced its origin and how it was designed and adopted. She urged the scouts to "keep it fine, honor and respect it."

The gift was accepted on behalf of the cubs by Robert Smith, Sr., who expressed the thanks of the group for being so honored by the Daughters of the American Revolution.

"The Building of The Flag" was presented by the cubs assisted by John Wolf, chairman and Robert Smith, Sr., Cubmaster. Each of 13 cubs pinned to a large frame one of the 13 stripes of the flag giving the name of the state adopting it and the year in which that state ratified the constitution. NEARING OLD DEAL GOAL

National income is expected to reach $70,000,000,000 this year, an increase of 12 per cent over last year, but a figure 13 per cent below the total national income of 1929. Of this year's national income, labor is expected to receive even more than the 65.5 per cent of last year when $41,250,000,000 of a national income of $62,056,000,000 went to the nation's workers.

Department of commerce officials point to wage increases in steel, automobile and other industries in support of their forecast of labor's augmented share of total income. They estimate that average per capita pay of all employees will rise above $1,300, as against $1,244 for last year. Even that increased average would be substantially short of the 1929 figure, which was $1,450. An average salary of $2,400 is forecast for "white collar workers" whose average was $2,333 last year and $2,560 in 1929.

The rise in total and per capita income will be offset, however, to a great extent by price rises since last year. In other words, labor will be receiving both a larger average wage and a larger share of the total national income; but that probably will not do the individual worker or his family any good when the monthly household bills come in.

There is another little cloud on the roseate horizon seen by department of commerce statisticians. While they point with pride to the fact that the present upward trend in national income, if continued, will bring the total to the 1929 level of $78,174,000,000 next year, they admit that an increased population will prevent this from meaning a return to 1929 living standards.

We may expect New Deal enthusiasts to make the most of the statistics showing that labor is getting an increased share of the national income. We may expect them to gloss over one important and rather paradoxical fact—namely, that the inviting, but still rather remote, goal to which the New Deal's own statisticians hopefully point is a return to something approaching labor's living standards in the bad Old Deal days of 1929.

MILITARISM GONE MAD

The Japanese campaign of extermination and destruction being carried on by air far from the battle lines in China shows what can happen when the militarists obtain control of a nation. This is not war. This is wholesale murder. The similarity to Mussolini's "campaign" of education in Ethiopia is so marked as to emphasize again the tie-up between the militarist, dictator, racketeers—Italy, Japan and Germany. Tens of thousands of Chinese are being killed, hundreds of millions of dollars in damage inflicted by Japanese planes openly attacking Chinese cities. And there has been no declaration of war by Japan on China!

The racket nations are rapidly becoming a world problem. As long as their victims can be taken one at a time, the scourge of dictatorship makes progress. Ask Ethiopia, Spain or China! It begins to look very much like the civilized nations would be forced to band together for mutual protection against the international racketeers, Mussolini, Hitler and the Sun God.

Of course the dog has character. He has associated with man for 5000 years and isn't corrupted yet.

situation in which the disclosures have left him and them. It is the line most of them want him to take, coupling it, of course, with an indignant assertion that the whole business has been concocted by "Wall Street Tories" and is aimed at the President. Mr. Roosevelt, who in former days was one of the strongest opponents of the Klan, will help create this much-to-be-desired impression if he adheres to his policy of dignified silence on the subject.

HOWEVER, it is not likely that these efforts to divert and beloud the public mind will obscure, from any sane the altogether undiscerning, the significant facts which re- reute the strained contentions of

Mr. Black's friends and render their arguments absurd. For example, against the contention that he never really believed in or was in sympathy with the principles of the Klan, there is the record of the solemn Klansman's oath to which he subscribed, pledging his adherence to those principles. And there is the further record of the extraordinary speech he made praising those principles upon the occasion of his induction into life membership.

THERE IS an even more complete answer to the somewhat plaintive assertion that, while once a Klansman, Mr. Black long ago discarded those principles and, as shown by his record, is now wholly free from bigotry, with no trace in him of the racial and religious hatred upon which the Klan is founded. On this question of whether men change in this way, Mr. Black, himself, delivered a speech on the floor of the Senate on February 19, 1930. He was at that time opposing the confirmation of Mr. Hugh M. Tate to the Interstate Commerce Commission on the ground that he once had had a connection as a lawyer with a railroad.

MR. BLACK DELIVERED himself then as follows:

"I do not mean that, as an invariable rule, a man is so bent or has such a trend that he cannot change his method of thought, but I do mean to say that as a general rule a man follows in the future the course that he has followed in the past. Show me the kind of steps a man made in the sand five years ago and I will show you the kind of steps he is likely to make in the same sand five years hence. Show me the course he was pursuing then, and unless there has been a cataclysm which has absolutely changed his character, I will show you the course he is going to follow in the future. It is merely according to the law of nature; it is written on the human heart; it is inscribed on the tablets of the external government—the government of nature."

It is inevitable that these words should be quoted against the contention that whatever Mr. Black may have sworn to years ago, he would not think of subscribing to now. It is ironical that the most complete answer to his best defense should come out of his own mouth.

WHILE you were asleep, the crackle of flames and the smell of smoke struck fear to a certain family.

Elsewhere someone awoke to a screech of brakes . . . a crash . . . and found a bad accident at his doorstep. In another home, a burglar prowled . . . or sudden illness brought urgent need for a doctor.

In such emergencies, the telephone must not fail. It must be ready for instant action at any hour of the day or night. It must be dependable. To keep it so requires good equipment, maintained and operated at peak efficiency, by skillful workers who have a sincere desire to serve you well.

Every home needs fast, dependable telephone service. You can have it in your home—for less than a dime a day.

strawflowers, Silver King, Honesty and Japanese Lanterns. When drying any of these however, if the stems are bent into graceful curves and loosely fastened together, the flowers can be arranged in more attractive bouquets.

Bright berries with evergreen, and strawflowers with fine grasses or lacy weeds, make interesting bouquets. Bittersweet is more effective when arranged to show its natural twining growth than when used with short stems and giving only a color effect.

The proper arrangement of any of these flowers and berries in appropriate containers is as essential as when arranging fresh flowers.

ROEBLING "SAINTS" TILT CANCELLED FOR FRIDAY

The football game between the St. Ann's A. A. eleven and the Roebling Blue Centers, scheduled for Friday night, has been called off until a later date.

The "Saints" held a long drill last night and Coach Dougherty corrected many of the faults of Sunday's contest with the Hope Fire Company. Two new players are expected to begin practice tomorrow night.

Disston Scholastic will be the opposing team Sunday, and the game will be played on the Belmont field, State Road and Unruh Street, Tacony. The following Sunday, the "Saints" will meet the Dittman A. A. team on the local field, Garden street and Jefferson avenue.

YANKEES EXPECT GIANTS TO BE SAME EASY MARKS

(Note: This is the first of a series of articles by Davis J. Walsh, dealing with the two New York clubs, the Yankees and Giants, who probably will meet in the 1937 World Series.)

By Davis J. Walsh
(I. N. S. Sports Editor)

NEW YORK, Sept. 29.—(INS)—If for no other reason than the fact that I was born with a naive faith in the inevitable, I think we can simplify everything by conceding the National League pennant to the New York Giants who, being 4½ games in front, undoubtedly have already conceded it to themselves. In fact, the writer will concede them something that few seem willing to do—a good chance to beat the rival Yankees in the World Series next week.

The "hot" ball club always is the one to bet with in the Series and the Yankees haven't been any hotter than a piano key for more than a month. Neither were the Philadelphia Athletics during the dying days of 1914; as a matter of fact, they couldn't beat a basket team after mid-August, but they thought they were only eased up. Later, we merely changed "eased" to "washed" and went right on with our powerful pieces about the fall of a dynasty.

The Yanks aren't that bad. It's simply that they're not as good as a lot of well-intentioned blatherers have made them believe—and they are believing it, for privately they expect the Giants to be the same easy touch they were a year ago. They even tell me that Babe Ruth is around saying that Hubbell won't last four innings, which may or may not be true. I have a hunch that it won't be.

For the Giants are the best "hot" club, perhaps not a typical "hot" club, possibly not even the best in their own league. But a club that is coming up to the Series with plenty of momentum off a "hot" race, to say nothing of the fact that they took a lacing last year and would like very much to do something about it. They are also a club that has come on with the extra year, notably in connection with Bartell and Whitehead around second base; with Ott at third base, Ripple and Moore in the outfield and Danning behind the plate.

No, this is no sucker-club. Anyhow, you're not going to beat it just by thinking you can.

"RECS" FOOTBALL ELEVEN TO PLAY AT ROEBLING

The Bristol Rec football club will travel to Roebling, N. J., tomorrow evening and play the Blue Center team under the arc lights, in the opening game of the season.

Sunday the Recs travel to Willow Grove to play the strong team of that place.

The Recs will practice tonight. All players are requested to report to Coach George Dougherty at 7.30 p. m.

IMPRESSED

PORTLAND, Ore. — (INS) — Three youthful "bandits" have learned that hair brushes pack a far greater wallop than guns. The youngsters were picked up by detectives after they stole a purse containing 57 cents. When detectives attempted to impress them with threats of imprisonment, the "bandits"—aged 8, 7, and 10 years—pulled out toy guns and stoutly held their ground. They were turned over to their parents, who promised to impress them where it would do the most good.

GOOSE NEARLY COOKED

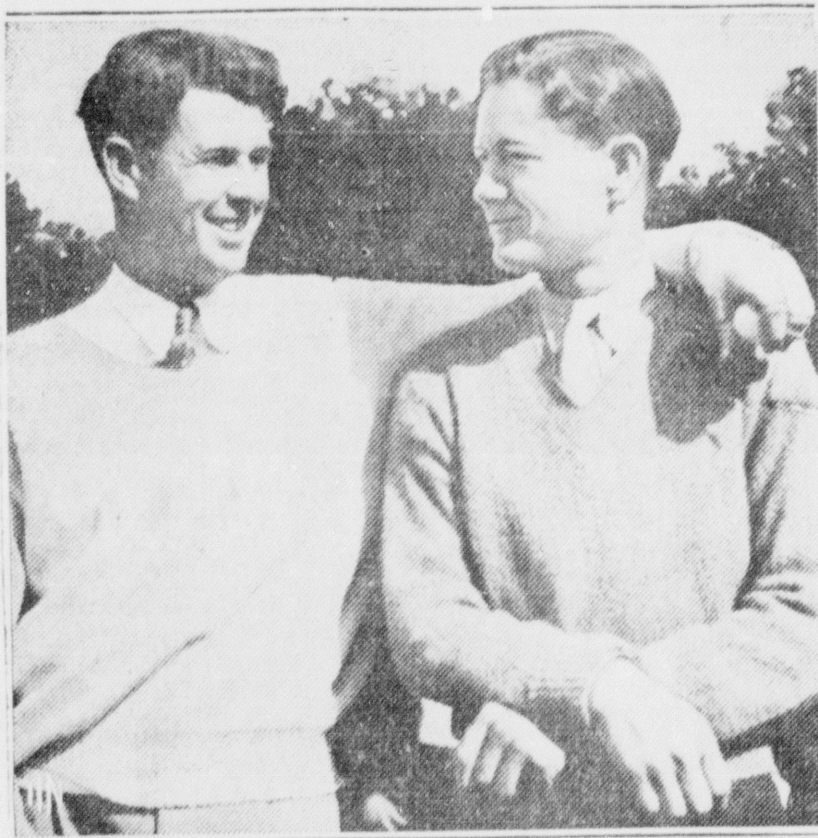

VALDEZ, Alaska. — (INS) — A wild goose here cooked up a considerable repair bill for Roy Dieringer, Alaskan flying enthusiast. Dieringer reports that he was flying his Taylor Cub at an altitude of approximately 1,500 feet one night when a goose suddenly rocketed into his right wing tip. The plane dipped and tossed but the pilot managed to land it safely.

SLUDGE AND PATTERSON TO BATTLE AT ARENA

TRENTON, Sept. 29.—Bill Sledge and Jake Patterson, who stole the mat show at the Arena last Wednesday night right away from the main event performers, have been rematched for tonight's wind-up. Promoter Johnny Ipp announced.

Sledge, popular Texan, and Patterson, burly Syracuse rowdy, tugged to a draw last week that had the patrons cheering from start to finish. It was one of the most torrid bouts ever waged here, and Ipp did not hesitate a moment to re-pair the two men.

Abie Coleman, sawed-off Hebrew drop-kicker, will appear in the semi-final against the Armenian strongman, Leo Hyatt.

George Kondylas, Greek grappler with the handle-bar mustaches, who downed Ed Cook last week, returns against Stan Wyckoff, surly German villain, and Sammy Menacher of the Bronx and Bobby Roberts of Canada, two fast and speedy youngsters, will open the card.

The first bout will start at 8.30 p. m.

Penna's Beauty Inspired Kipling on His Visit Here

Poem Sings of State's Autumn Freshness; He Liked Our Girls, Too

If you're off to Philadelphia this morning,
And wish to prove the truth of what I say,
I pledge my word you'll find the pleasant land behind
Unaltered since Red Jacket rode that way.

Still the pine-woods scent the noon; still the catbird sings his tune;
Still autumn sets the maple forest blazing
Still the grapevine through the dusk flings her soul-compelling musk;
Still the fire-flies in the corn make night amazing.

They are there, there, there with earth immortal
(Citizens, I give you friendly warning).
The things that truly live when men and times have passed,
They are all in Pennsylvania this morning!
RUDYARD KIPLING.

Harrisburg—Although Pennsylvania for the first time in history is this year advertising its beauties, Rudyard Kipling, England's late poet and author, blazoned the State's virtues to the world before the turn of this century.

Although he travelled over the world to exotic far-off places—Africa, India, the Orient—it was homespun, wholesome Pennsylvania which inspired one of his most enthusiastic tributes—in both poetry and prose.

A young man just rising to fame and fortune in the literary world when he came to this State 40 years ago, the Pennsylvania State Publicity Commission points out, Kipling had just left the roar and bustle of Chicago on his world tour. He was seeking peace—and he found it, in on a brief summer visit with friends along the Monongahela River in the southwestern part of the State.

Kipling devoted many eloquent pages of his "American Notes" to the serenity of the hills among which he wandered, as he says, "to find peace," and to appreciaing power. The Japanese fighting forces are doing this. Unjust criticism will not deter Japan from her true responsibilities."

The spokesman said the Japanese airmen are not aiming at and not bombing non-combatants "as the Chinese did when they bombed the American Dollar liner President Hoover." "Japan," he added, "has suffered needless sacrifices by not having her fliers release their bombs when their targets were not clearly discernable. Japan strongly condemns Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek's and others' vivid, blood-curdling accounts of Japanese atrocities. Stories of destruction of hospitals and schools are absolutely untrue."

Asked about charges that Japanese submarines are operating in Chesapeake Bay, the spokesman countered: "What's your proof?"

PIE HUNT

SHERIDAN, Ind. — (INS) — Tired blackbirds who roost here probably will be either bluebirds or pie. The town board, annoyed at the noise of the hundreds of thousands of roosting birds, has licensed a group of men either to shoot or scare the birds out of the city limits.

Old King Karl Still Rules

By BURNLEY

Ol' King Karl of the Giants has once again topped the list of hurlers, withstanding all challengers for the major league pitching crown he has held for the past few years.

Hubbell's middle name is consistency. In past seasons such mound ace as Dean and Gomez challenged his right to the title of kingpin twirler, but Dizzy and Goofy couldn't keep up the pace. Dean has been a miserable failure this year, and Gomez finally made a comeback this year after flopping dismally in '35 and '36.

But the Hubbell man just keeps rolling along. Hubbell, Hubbell, means plenty of trouble—for opposing hitters. Nothing seems to upset the even tenor of his peerless pitching ways. He suffered a brief letdown after his famous winning streak was finally snapped this season, but after losing a couple of games he snapped right back into form, to the consternation of the clouters.

Much of Bill Terry's success as boss of the Giants can be traced to good old Carlos. Without his ever-dependable left wing, the Giants would probably have never won a flag during Terry's reign.

Some time ago, the writer of a sports article in a current weekly tabbed Hubbell, "The Meal Ticket." There could be no more fitting tag to describe the lean southpaw who so consistently brings home the bacon.

For direct relief grants showed that a total of $2,538.89 was expended for this purpose during the second week in September.

One of the leading features at the sale of personal property belonging to Justice of the Peace William W. Hall at Danboro, Monday was the very quick disposal of an old Windsor chair which had been in the family for many years.

Just as soon as the old piece of furniture was offered for sale the large number of people attending the sale crowded around the auction block occupied by the auctioneer, E. Newlin Brown, and in a short time the very spirited bidding was started. Almost simultaneously at least half a dozen prospective buyers shouted their bids. The bidding started at $5, but in a few minutes it was up to $25. By this time, however, most of the bidders lost hope and only two or three were left in the field. Finally the chair went to the highest bidder for exactly $100. The name of the purchaser is not known.
